Forever Lives Yahweh (F.L.Y) is an inspirational Hip-Hop Artist who fuses the struggle of urban street survival with faith, lyricism, and cultural encouragement. Born and raised in Chicago (Westside), F.L.Y was a product of his environment, which reflected in his early rap groups J-Squad and MSK. To escape the streets of Chicago, F.L.Y was sent to live with his father in Jackson, Mississippi where his life ultimately took a turn for the better. Today, F.L.Y balances a prosperous career as a highly successful inspirational rapper signed to Freedom Corner Brand (distributed by Sony Orchard via Family and Friends Entertainment) and as an entrepreneur and business professional who has provided operational management for several multi-million-dollar companies (Travel Centers of America, Luby's, Fuddrucker's, Einstein Bros, Landmark Healthcare and more); F.L.Y was most recently recruited to direct Dining Services for Morrison Healthcare. Perhaps it is no wonder why his energy and delivery have been compared to Meek Mill, with a range and musical breadth which expands across multiple genres—ensuring nobody sounds or performs quite like Forever Lives Yahweh.

For over a decade, as both a recording artist and business professional, F.L.Y has traveled from coast to coast often performing, providing education, and/or training and development for aspiring professionals. However, his professional accomplishments are humbled by both his ministerial work as a PCAF certified local minister and his unyielding commitment to family. Fly is a loving husband to his wife Ciera (who also sings on multiple F.L.Y records) and is a proud father to their five children (Daisy, Tre, Jonah, Lauren, and Caleb)—who can often be found in his videos or behind the scenes and camera as well.

For nearly two decades, F.L.Y has worked with various non-profits (PCAF, Refill Initiative, A.R.M, Restitution of Hope) while also serving as an Education Superintendent, Board Member, Minister, Youth & Young Adult President, Orator, and Ambassador to provide education, advocacy and employment for children and adults of all ages. F.L.Y is fortunate to be able to inspire younger generations as a mentor with organizations such as Henley-Young Detention Center and Central Mississippi Correctional Facility and as an Educational Superintendent with A.R.M. Church teaching religious and self-improvement studies and serving on its Board of Trustees as well.

Having performed on stages from New Orleans to Chicago, F.L.Y's music is the vehicle that drives his passion to be an inspiration for others. You can see and hear him weekly on The ProQuo Show (livestream show via the www.HipHopCitizen.com network) with his label mates ProQuo as they discuss everything from the music industry to politics, while also playing plenty of their own releases and interviewing guests across all walks of life.
